

March 2018: record container throughput

04 May 2018

A double record for the Ports of Genoa: a 5.5% monthly increase and a 9.2% quarterly gain on the comparable periods of the previous year.

2018 is poised to be another record year for the Ports of Genoa as the upward trend continues. In March the terminals handled a total of 236,144 teus, compared to 223,838 teus registered in last year's corresponding period, a 5.5% increase in container traffic. Whilst a comparison of the first quarter of the year points to a 9.2% gain: 664,222 teus moved in 2018 against the 608,430 teus reported in 2017..

The Ports of Genoa have posted their best all-time month of March and first quarter of the year for container shipments in the ports' history.

March 2018: record container throughput